

CHOOSING CHANGE AFTER COVID: REFRAMING DISTRESS IN THE HEALTHCARE WORKFORCE

MARCH 11, 2022, 10-11AM EST

HOSPITAL, HEALTH & ADDICTION WORKERS, PATIENTS AND FAMILIES WORK GROUP
(est. by 14 doctors/American Psychological Association)

Wendy Dean, MD

CEO & Co-founder, Moral Injury of Healthcare, Inc

Moral Injury of Healthcare (fixmoralinjury.org), is a nonprofit organization that provides training and consultation to organizations focused on alleviating distress in their workforce.

Writer, speaker, podcast host, and a psychiatrist by training, Dr. Dean has been a practicing clinician. She worked for the Department of Defense and as an executive for a large international non-profit supporting military medical research.

The COVID pandemic exacerbated an existing crisis of distress in the healthcare workforce. Recovery will require rethinking the causes of distress and redesigning new solutions. Choosing change and working together to build a better healthcare environment is the first step toward reestablishing trust with a wary workforce.
